Schedule 2: Termination Policy

1 Background

Wilsons Advisory and Stockbroking Limited's (Wilsons Advisory) Managed Discretionary Account service (MDA) is called Private Portfolio, and Private Portfolio High Conviction Accounts. The purpose of this policy is to outline Wilsons Advisory's termination policy and procedures for its MDA accounts. This policy complies with the conditions of ASIC's relief under ASIC Corporations (Managed Discretionary Account Services) Instrument 2016/968.

2 Termination

2.1 Termination Notification

An MDA contract may be terminated in accordance with the Wilsons Advisory Private Portfolio & Private Portfolio High Conviction Terms and Conditions. In particular, a client may terminate the Wilsons Advisory MDA service at any time by giving two business days' notice in writing to Wilsons Advisory.

Wilsons Advisory will notify the relevant advisor once a termination notice has been received and no further discretion will be exercised in relation to the Private Portfolio assets. Wilsons Advisory will comply with terms of the contract as to how to finalise the dealings with portfolio assets.

2.2 Termination Instructions

Under the Private Portfolio service, Wilsons Advisory does not hold client assets on behalf of the client. The client has provided Wilsons Advisory with discretionary trading authorisation over their assets, which are held either:

- directly in the clients own name; or
- via an external financial services provider's nominee or custody service. Note that in these cases, the client has a direct legal relationship with the relevant custodian or nominee.

When a Client provides a termination notice to Wilsons Advisory, the client is terminating Wilsons Advisory's discretionary trading authorisation. The client will need to provide further instructions about what, if anything, they wish to occur with the Portfolio assets. Depending on the client's wishes, the Portfolio Assets may:

- remain tradeable via Wilsons Advisory or the external financial services provider on a non-discretionary basis;
- be transferred to another external financial services provider; or
- be sold down and the proceeds transferred to the clients linked bank account.
